

HON. ROBT. W. COLE

The above is a good likeness of Mr. Cole as he looks today, and he looks good to his many Fraternal Brothers who are looking forward to the day when the Great Council of Kentucky's Redmen meet in the city of Frankfort where his friends and admirers hope and expect that he will be elected Great Keeper of Wampum (Treasurer) of the Great Council of Kentucky.

Mr. Cole has been a Redman for many years and is as faithful to the order as is the needle to the north star. He has attended every Great Council Meeting since he has been a Past Sachem of his tribe. He has served upon some committee each year and has served them faithfully, never letting his business stand between him and his duty to his tribe and brethren of the order. He is well known by all Redmen of the State, as well as those of the Palefaced Nation. His course in the matter of his election to this important and responsible position is being watched by all who know him.

Mr. Cole is Cashier of the First National Bank, Barbourville, which position he has held for nine years, and has been Mayor of the city of Barbourville, and he has been trustee of the jury fund for the Knox Circuit Court for six years. He has never betrayed a trust, but has been faithful and efficient in all things. The Redmen of Kentucky could make no better selection than that of Mr. Cole.

CONCERNING GRADED SCHOOL

Anticipating a shortage of funds to teach a nine months school for the years 1915-1916, from Sept. 20th, the Board of Trustees entered an order of record early in the school year for an eight months school, one month beyond the statutory requirements. There has passed some criticisms among the people because of this forced condition of affairs, and the trustees deem it expedient to here state a few facts of prime interest to the district.

In the first place we built one of the most convenient and handsome public school buildings in Kentucky with money collected from sale of the $17,500.00 of School Bonds. Premium collected on same was $436.00, which was $346.00 more premium that was offered the retiring board of trustees.

The 1915 Tax Levy was divided thus: 20cts for sinking fund account to pay interest on Bonds and balance of this amount to be added to yearly for cancellation of bonds when due. Then we had 20cts. for general expenses, plus about $2,700.00 from State, or a total of $6,500 for school purposes. Cost in neighborhood of $500, monthly to run the school. During year just closing we spent $2,445.00 in necessities, which money will go for other purposes in the future.

These items are:

$12,000 Insurance on Building for 5 years	$ 208.00
Two (2) lots adjoining property for play ground	1231.00
Seating Auditorium	689.00
Moving seats & stoves from old bldg. & side walk	75.00
Cost of Court Suit and Interest (new board fell heir to this long standing suit against first bonding company with which old board dealt)	251.00
	$2,445.00

The board has placed a levy of 50c for incoming school year, to wit: 20c for Sinking Fund, and 30c for general school fund, you will note that we will have ten cents money on each $100 of taxable property, in addition to this saving of about $2500 to be added to our checking account during next school year.

We will employ one additional teacher, and probably two more teachers will be necessary to properly instruct the student body that will matriculate with us this fall from the district. Again, we expect to complete the heating and water jobs this summer. The roughing was done and paid for during construction of building.

This article is not written in any way of a defense for the free and happy labor that has ever been the part of your board of trustees, but to familiarize the public of the status of the school from a financial standpoint, which they have a right and ought to know first hand.

May 6th, between the hours of 1 P. M. and 6 P. M. an election will be held at Public School Building for TWO TRUSTEES for a term of three (3) years. Messrs Catron, Parker and Black are hold-over members. Mr. John R. Hommons, Mr. Cary and Mrs. A. W. Hopper have been named to hold said election.

Respectfully submitted,
W. C. Black, Chairman,

Barbourville Graded and High School Dist. No. 1.

Saturday night, May 20, 1916.

That is the magic day and hour and at that time the Great Automobile Contest of the Mountain Advocate will close, bringing to an end the greatest newspaper campaign that has yet stirred Barbourville and vicinity. Twenty-four days, 552 hours, yes, it can almost be counted into minutes and the candidates, enthused to a point bordering on frenzy, aroused to the unprecedented opportunities that confront them, striving by dint of hard, earnest effort to rise, working with every ounce of strength at their command to increase their reserve vote—that is the vivid picture that today spreads over Barbourville.

Everywhere candidates are swarming in eager and anxious quest for subscriptions that will bring them the big votes, and every hour that passes instills new energy into them. This campaign has invoked an intense interest, not only because of the many popular young men and women who are entered, but also because of the golden prizes in store for the real workers. The few days remaining before the call of "time" are being used to immense advantage by those who are determined to win, and of these there are many.

Their own pride and self-satisfaction is proving energetic enough to win over the field, and the desire to qualify the confidence and loyal support of their friends is leading them forward, with never a glance behind, to the cherished goal.

These workers pay no attention to frequent rumors that are circulated with the hope of damaging effect. Misleading stories have but one object—to influence some candidate to retire for fear of passing someone else in the race. Such tales have no foundation whatever. It is obvious that no one can determine the ultimate result of this campaign. Every one is equal. No one knows how many reserve votes another candidate may have. Therefore, no matter what may be said regarding the chances of any particular candidate, it is solely their own opinion. Other candidates probably have equally as substantial a reserve vote, hence there is nothing to fear. Courage and downright hustle are the two main things that will win the prizes, and every candidate should—and for that matter is—taking upon herself to annex just as many subscriptions as is within her power, between now and the final hour. They can be gotten anywhere. The territory is unlimited and the present offer of 100,000 extra votes for every $25.00 club makes possible wonderful gains in the standing.

The subscriptions are coming to the campaign office literally in

Don't Get Fooled.

Some of those who are soliciting for The Advocate report that some people are telling them that they are getting The Advocate free. Well, this is news to the Editor and he is glad to get it. But remember that paper costs four times as much as it did last year, and that ink has gone up with the paper, labor is no cheaper and the Editor is no richer, and if you want to continue to get the paper you will sure have to sweeten the deal, that is get in with your subscription. If you have been getting the paper and it fails to come to you that is a sign that your name has a blue mark across it that nothing can remove except the cash. If you do not want the paper tell your postmaster and he will give us notice that you don't want it. If you are taking it out and reading it or using it for any other purpose pay up before you quit. We have to have money to run a newspaper as well as any other business. We are going to treat all alike. We cannot and will not send the paper to anyone for less than one dollar per year. We would not send it to our great-grand father for less. We would if we could but we just can't do it.

The Amazing thing about the New Grant Six isn't the price—it's the quality

Of course, being dealers you are prepared to discount our statements regarding the cars we sell. But honestly, the new Grant is simply a wonder.

It has six-inch longer wheel base and that permits a bigger, roomier body.

The Grant Company took advantage of the situation and got the largest and handsomest body ever put on a car priced below a thousand.

This body has fifty lines—it is what the trade call modified boat-line type—not extreme, but quiet, dignified and modest looking with real style.

The cushions are deeper and softer—and the side lines are high so that knees don't peep over the edge.

And Grant Six has many bigger cars beaten in the ample legroom it gives both front and rear. Even a six-footer couldn't complain of being cramped in Grant Six.

But it's the motor that gives you the real thrill. Press your foot on the accelerator and she moves off so swiftly that you realize you've touched something extremely sensitive. 50 miles in a few blocks is nothing for Grant Six.

Then when you throttle down to 15 miles an hour—and all the pull there—no gasping and choking and dying—but real pull—you realize that you have been driving a wonder motor.

And when you know Grant Six owners rarely get less than 20 miles—often as high as 28 miles out of a gallon of gasoline—you will gain some conception of the mechanical excellence embodied in this remarkable SIX. Don't forget we are talking about a SIX—a car that gives you the best of the SIX virtues plus amazing economy—both in first cost and cost of operating.

Will you let Grant Six go through the paces for you? Better phone us for a demonstration now—while we can still name delivery dates.
